Save-The-Date: Oct. 23-24 Environment & Lands Committee Meeting

We are excited to announce the dates for the Fall Environment and Lands Committee meeting in Washington, D.C. Please mark your calendar for this two-day program on Oct. 23 and Oct. 24, 2025. This meeting will be held in the conference center located on the second floor of the National Mining Association's (NMA) office building at 101 Constitution Avenue, NW, Washington, D.C. Like years past, this meeting is designed for in-person attendance. Virtual attendance options will not be provided.

The NMA team is developing an informative program where members will: (1) receive an overarching staff update on priority rulemaking and policy matters; (2) have an opportunity to engage in strategy discussions and network with colleagues; and (3) hear directly from a slate of key executive branch and congressional staff that are working on our priorities with opportunities for direct engagement.

Program

A draft agenda will be available early September. For planning purposes, we are developing a schedule of events for two full days, starting at 8 a.m. on Thursday, Oct. 23, 2025. We will close the meeting by 5 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 24, 2025. We will host a welcoming reception on the first night in conjunction with NMA's Sentinels of Safety awards event.

Hotel Options

Since the meeting will be held at the NMA, there is not a group room block. You are welcome to stay at your preferred hotel in Washington, D.C. There are several hotels within walking distance of the NMA's office building (including the Yotel, Hilton Capitol Hill, and the Hyatt Regency Washington on Capitol Hill), and many options in downtown D.C. If you need additional recommendations, please reach out to Joseph Randall at jrandall@nma.org.
