NMA Applauds Senate, Urges House Passage of One Big Beautiful Bill

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The National Mining Association (NMA) today issued the following statement from its president and CEO Rich Nolan applauding the Senate's passage of its version of the "One Big Beautiful Bill" and urging House action to send the bill to President Trump's desk.

"We urge the House to quickly pass this bill, which increases the competitiveness of the American mining industry and provides vital incentives, including funding to counter China's mineral dominance. The bill also makes improperly withdrawn lands available for energy production, which is key to supplying a reliable electric grid capable of powering our nation's future. Through these measures, the bill will directly support U.S. economic growth and security. Mining feeds and fuels virtually every American supply chain; a strong mining industry creates an equally strong foundation for every industry that depends on the products and energy we provide. More can be done, and the NMA will continue to advocate with Congress and the administration on ways to support additional domestic mining, and mineral production and processing."
